

Bancroft and Rider University are partnering to help you move forward in your Bancroft career.

This Fall, Rider will again offer the undergraduate course Introduction to Applied Behavior Analysis for Bancroft Students. The course will either be offered on the Mt. Laurel Campus or online, based Rider University's requirements for Fall teaching due to the pandemic.

Top Five Reasons You Should Take This Class

1. Tuition reimbursement is available through Bancroft for qualified employees when you pass the class.
2. This class gives you the coursework you need to qualify for Registered Behavior Technician® (RBT) credential offered by the Behavior Analysis Certification Board and applies to your bachelor's degree at Rider if you decide to continue.
3. The class will be taught on-site at Bancroft or on-line from 4-7 PM
4. The instructor is a Bancroft employee so you will gain a deeper understanding of how our programming impacts the behavior of the people at Bancroft.
5. Deferred billing is available through Rider, so you don't have to pay for the course up front.

Ready to apply?

Complete the application that you'll find here: <https://www.rider.edu/admissions/adult-learners/apply>

You are applying as a non-degree student which means you are only applying to and will be accepted to take this course. If you have college transcripts, you should scan an unofficial copy to admissions@rider.edu. If you have not taken any college credits, you should email proof of your high school graduation to the same email address.

Have questions?

Call or email Jamie Mitchell at 609-8950-5036 or jmitchell@rider.edu

To review Bancroft's policy on Tuition Reimbursement and make sure you are eligible to apply: Click Here

One enrolled in the course, make sure you have the course pre-approved for Tuition Reimbursement (see the Buzz page for tuition reimbursement)